

Call for Applications

Arab American Studies Association Travel Stipend (2017)

Support for graduate students, adjunct faculty, and independent researchers to participate in AASA-sponsored meetings.

The Arab American Studies Association is accepting applications for travel stipends to attend the 2017 AASA conference in Dearborn, MI (March 24 – 26). AASA will award up to two (2) travel stipends to qualified graduate students, adjunct faculty, and/or independent researchers.

The Award

Travel stipends of up to $250 will be awarded to qualified candidates to participate in the 2017 AASA conference in Dearborn, “Waypoints and Watersheds: Arab American Activism and Memories, A Conference Marking the 50th Anniversary of the 1967 War.” The funds may be used to cover travel, lodging, and other related expenses.

Qualified applicants include graduate students and adjunct faculty members at accredited institutions, as well as independent researchers.

Qualified applicants must be an AASA member in good standing; and must either be an AASA board member, or a participant in the conference as either a panel presenter, chair, or organizer. Preference is given to applicants who do not have conference travel funding from their present institution or another source.

How to apply

To apply, please submit an application consisting of the following:

- Brief C.V.;
- A brief description of your role in the conference and why the AASA travel stipend is needed (including a list of any other funding sources you have applied to);
- Proposed budget (including estimated airfare, lodging, etc.).

The deadline to apply is February 17, 2017. Applications may be sent via email to:

Arab American Studies Association
Attn: Travel Stipend
treasurer@arabamericanstudies.org

Successful applicants will be notified by February 24, 2017.

About the Arab American Studies Association

Founded in 2012, the Arab American Studies Association (AASA) is a non-profit, nonpolitical organization of scholars and other persons interested in the study of Arab American history, ethnicity, culture, literature, art, music, politics, religion, and other aspects of Arab American experience.

Questions?

Contact the AASA Treasurer at treasurer@arabamericanstudies.org